Focusing on Leadership

This month our focus is on leadership. Many of you have heard over and over again, "It is important to be a leader." Hearing that, some of you know right off the bat what that means for you. Others, however, may struggle with how that applies individually. Either way, it never hurts to discuss what leadership means in your personal and professional lives.

At American Income and National Income, we make it our business to encourage our sales force — from Career Agents to Managers — to use their talents and capabilities in ways that bring meaning to their lives and the lives of the people they work with as well as our customers. I feel this is why AIL and NILICO foster an environment of shared responsibility, cooperation, and true partnership. I am also a true believer in the philosophy that people empower people, and I believe this philosophy streams throughout the heart of AIL and NILICO.

The men and women featured on the cover of this month's magazine embody this philosophy that people empower people. These individuals traveled to Waco from agencies throughout the Company and met at the Leadership Development Seminar to share in the importance of being leaders. This future leadership generation committed their time and energy to learn more about leadership philosophies, recruiting, RMS, reports, training, underwriting, and marketing. These LDS attendees also had the opportunity to hear from some of the best leaders within American Income and National Income.

Getting back to people empowering people, these leaders now have a peer group with which they can contact and seek advice. They have taken home with them a wealth of information, resources, and knowledge, but more importantly, a plan of action to carry them to the next level.

Leadership takes initiative. However, leadership is something we all can develop — whether or not we are in management. Therefore, in American Income and National Income terms, leadership applies to individuals seeking management opportunities as well as individuals who want to choose a career path as a Career Agent. Either way, whether you are a Career Agent or a Manager, you are an example to others and, therefore, a leader. This is why, as a leader, it is important to expand your knowledge and skills.

The Leadership Development Seminar is a great place for Managers to learn to empower others and hone their leadership skills. Career Agents, on the other hand, can also show others the importance of leadership and how to be successful by sharing their success stories. Furthermore, just as Managers have their opportunity to fully develop their leadership skills, so do Career Agents. Career Agents have plenty of opportunities to learn from those around them, their Managers and SGAs as well as from the plethora of leadership resources available for those interested in the subject.

At American Income and National Income, we are always actively seeking Producers who are willing to step up and build upon their already great capabilities and skills. I feel that it is important to continuously promote the leader within us all. It takes a motivated individual who is willing to take the leap and seek out more knowledge. It also takes an individual with the desire to utilize and share knowledge with others looking for guidance and direction.

We are a big family here at AIL and NILICO, and when one of us succeeds all of us succeed. Therefore, do not forget to take advantage of the opportunity we offer every day — building on your skills as a leader, realized or not.

If you are someone who is seeking more knowledge on what leadership means to you and feel you are a great candidate for empowering others, or you are interested in taking on a role as Manager and you want to be a part of the next Leadership Development Seminar, talk to your Manager or SGA.

The management and leadership opportunities at American Income and National Income are there for the taking. Each month this magazine alone recognizes more than two dozen men and women who are being promoted and stepping into leadership roles. I believe we are intertwined and we all have one vision of success. By working toward a greater sense of knowledge, talent, responsibility, and partnership, we are one!

Think big!

Dates to Remember

Tuesday, July 4, 2006

The Home Office will be closed for the Independence Day holiday.

Thursday, July 27, 2006

All business and PR credits must be at the Home Office to count for July production.

Total Bonuses Paid Out

This month AIL and NILICO paid a total of $913,556.73 in bonuses. For more information on the monthly bonuses, turn to Page 16.

Required Retention Rate

Effective Jan. 1, 2006, to be eligible for bonuses and featured in Spotlight, Producers must meet the required Retention or the minimum Net to Gross. Net to Gross varies based on bonus guidelines. The rates listed below are for Spotlight recognition only. Net to Gross is used only during the Producer's first eight months.

Retention:	68%
Net to Gross:	78%

Look for the Asterisk

The asterisks, shown throughout the magazine, indicate that place will be a year-to-date award winner. The Producers, who will be recognized at the 2007 Awards Presentation, are: the top SGA from each category, the top two PR Managers, the top two PR Representatives from each category, the top RGA, the top five MGAs, the top five GAs, the top SA, and the top ten Individual Producers. You can view the 2007 Convention Qualifications online at ailife.com or nilife.com. Check your production! If there is an asterisk by your position, you could be on your way to The Fairmont Scottsdale Princess! The convention will be held May 17-20, 2007.

Congratulations are in Order!

Jesse Wise, an SA with the Durhon Oldham Agency, achieved $100,000 of 13-month in force premium.

New Underwriting Manual

The new Underwriting manual has significant updates which reflect recent developments in the medical industry and affect the clients we presently see. This is great, because now we will see fewer ratings, and of those policies that do get rated, we will see lower ratings! Here are just a few of the changes that will impact our clients:

- The new manual offers lower ratings on diabetes and coronary heart disease, as well as on combinations of impairments such as overweight, high blood pressure, and even tobacco use. The end result is we can offer lower ratings on these frequently rated conditions.
- Clients who are moderately overweight, such as Table Three and even Table Four, will see reductions in ratings amounts. Many clients who were rated Table Two may find that no rating is required at all!
- Cancer ratings will be applied for lesser time frames. For instance, when a cancer rating was required for five years, this rating may now only be assessed for four years. Dollar amounts may be slightly higher, but the total amounts required over the entire rating period are comparable. This means the overall price does not go up, but the customer stops paying for the rating sooner.

Overall this is a very positive change for our clients, and it is a great way to increase sales and delivered policies.

Corrections

Micah Cohen of the David Cohen Agency received $2,070 and should have appeared fourth on April's BR Bonus list. James Taylor of the Bob Olson Agency received $745.77, and Moswen Taylor of the Mark Hancock Agency received $1,163.98. We apologize for these omissions.

Last month, Darrell Dorey, a PR Rep with the Imran Satti Agency was listed as fifth in Category C. Instead, he should have appeared as second in Category B with 1,691 cards and as second YTD with 4,827 cards.

Reaching for the Stars!

Each month, more people are rising through the ranks and becoming MGAs. They are learning no matter how high they reach, AMS can help them get there. The MGAs who spoke with us this month had great things to say about how other aspiring Agents can team their good work habits with the AMS system to reach the stars — the sky is the limit!

Sorana Blackfoot
The Altig-Hay Agency
Promoted February 2006

"There are three things people need in order to be a success with the Company. First, they need ambition and the desire to succeed. Second, they need to be persistent. Finally, they need discipline. I have only been here for a year, and these three things led me to my success."

John Collins
The Rick Altig Agency
Promoted March 2006

"I owe everything to my mentor, Chris Clark. Your mentors have been where you are now, so be sure to listen to the advice they give you. Their success will soon become your success if you just remain open-minded and soak up the tips and information they send your way."

John Fisher
The Altig-Orlovic Agency
Promoted March 2006

"My secret to achieving my promotion is simple — activity, activity, and more activity. You can never be satisfied with what you are given, but rather you have to go out and make your own additional business. Be prepared to work harder than ever before in your life."

Brian Merryman
The Rick Altig Agency
Promoted March 2006

"The AMS system is fantastic! Not only does the system allow you to achieve at the pace you wish, but it provides a support structure you cannot find anywhere else. You now have your mentor, your Manager, and your SGA who can assist should you have questions."

John Franklin
The David Cohen Agency
Promoted April 2006

"Be patient. Remember why you started with the Company — opportunity unlimited! The longer you remain with AIL, the easier it is to achieve success. Confidence, a positive attitude, and a sympathetic feel for the clients' needs are the tools you need to get the job done."

Joshua Gaines
The Mark Hancock Agency
Promoted April 2006

"There is no real secret to my success — just be sure to follow the program. Since AIL allows you to take your career into your own hands, it does not feel like work. Take this opportunity to actually enjoy what you do for a living, and never give up if things get difficult."

Nore Aguilera
The Jatoft-foti Agency
Promoted April 2006

"How you treat your clients will ultimately determine your success. Bring your professionalism into the home with you and treat the clients as you would want to be treated. Work hard on their behalf, and always follow up afterward to show that you care."

Timothy Hansen
The Altig-Deley Agency
Promoted April 2006

"Your script is the best friend you will have at AIL. It will open doors for you, answer any objections you might receive, and help with every step of your relationship with your clients. Your mentors are your second best friends, as they will answer any questions you may have about the script."

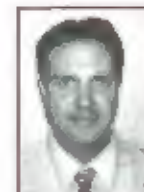

Asher Lavallee
The Rick Altig Agency
Promoted April 2006

"Always stick to your guns. Perseverance, dedication, and hard work are qualities that everyone, from Agents to SGAs, needs. Shadow those around you to learn their tricks and tips, because you can always incorporate these hints into what you already know works."

Minh Ma
The Josh Chalom Agency
Promoted April 2006

"Truly believe in what you do. Be passionate about going out and making your own success. I always know exactly what needs to be done, and I do everything within my power to achieve it. Do not just sit around waiting for success to be handed to you, but rather get out there and take it!"

Brett Sabol
The Surace-Smith Agency
Promoted April 2006

"I believe it is helpful to draw from my past experiences to determine how to handle problems that arise today. I find this is the best way to learn to deal with difficulty. Couple this strategy with a lot of hard work, and you have a real recipe for limitless success."

What LDS Can Offer You As a Leader

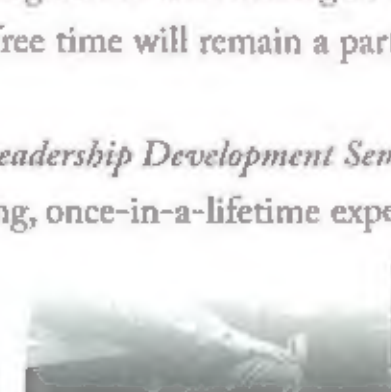

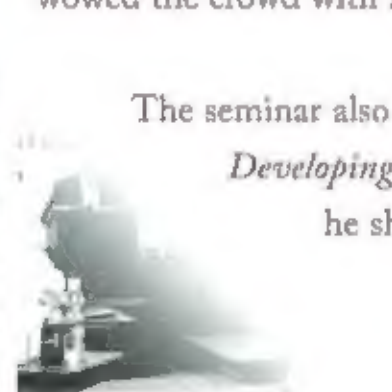

In May, Managers traveled from almost every Agency to attend the Leadership Development Seminar. The seminar was held in Waco, Texas, which gave the visiting participants the opportunity to meet the Home Office staff. This LDS spanned from May 18-20 and covered a variety of intense topics of discussion.

Over the three day course, the future leaders of AIL and NILICO listened to presentations ranging from Rob Falvo's Nine Characteristics of a Leader to Shashi Parekh's discussion on Non-Traditional Leads. Bo Gentile and Sam Yarbrough spoke on recruiting, and Scott Smith wowed the crowd with his Ten Things to Grow Your Business.

The seminar also had some special guests. State General Agent Durhon Oldham made an appearance and spoke to the participants on Developing Leaders. The contest winner from October's LDS, Matt Hogan, won an all-expense paid trip back to this seminar where he shared his stories about successful recruiting and field training.

Managers not only had the opportunity to learn from the best associated with the Company, but they were also able to meet their peers and make lasting bonds with Managers from other Agencies. The camaraderie they shared both inside the classroom and during their free time will remain a part of their memories forever.

The next Leadership Development Seminar will be held September 14-17, 2006. Contact your SGA if you wish to attend this amazing, once-in-a-lifetime experience.

The Importance of Learning

Having just overseen our last Leadership Development Seminar, I could not help but ask myself, was it worth the trip for those who participated, some from as far away as New Zealand? Without hesitating a moment, I answered with an emphatic yes!

I grew up in a house where learning was a must. So for me — thanks to my father — it is second nature to want to know more. When you think about it, our ability to learn is what makes us human: we are born curious, and our ability to continue learning is what defines us as individuals, as companies, and as societies.

If you really want to maximize your management career at American Income or National Income, you must make a conscious effort to expand your knowledge in all the areas that are important in this industry. On a daily basis, even for 15 minutes, you must read books, listen to a CD, or watch one of the thousands of videos available to help you become a better leader. This in turn will help you become a better role model for the people who look to you for leadership and guidance.

We are in a new age — the age of information and global competition. We have no choice but to prepare for this new age in which the key to success will be continuous education and development of our mind and imagination.

Attending the next Leadership Development Seminar in the Home Office from Sept. 14th - 17th is a great place to move your career to the next level. Please talk to your State General Agent to see if you have the qualifications to attend.

As the leaders of this Company, let's make a decision to start spending more time on personal development. Let's do so because it will bring us increased confidence, increased economic opportunity, and it leads to a better quality of life for ourselves and our families.

I look forward to seeing you at the next Leadership Development Seminar.
